Vehicle involved in hit and run is found

The Crystal City Police Department would like to thank those who helped find the people involved in an accident on March 7, 2018 at about 6:40 p.m.
The Crystal City Police Department received a phone call in reference to a vehicle striking a child on a bike. Upon the officers arrival the vehicle had left the scene and was last seen heading towards Lake Street. EMS was summoned to the scene to check on the child who was later transported to Dimmit Regional Hospital to get checked out. The only description given of the vehicle is that it was a two door white work truck with red lettering on the doors and tools in the back. They were also informed that there was a female witness to the accident.

Austin police probe any links between package bombings

By WILL WEISSERT and PAUL J. WEBER, Associated Press
AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Three package bombs left on doorsteps in suburban neighborhoods have exploded in less than two weeks in Texas' capital city, killing two people, wounding two others and leaving investigators searching for any possible explanation or motive.
Police said the bombings in eastern Austin — two Monday and one on March 2 — are likely linked. All the victims were minorities, and investigators are looking into whether race was a factor. However, they backed off initial suggestions that hate crimes could be a core cause.
The attacks unfolded as tens of thousands of visitors arrived for the busiest days of the South By Southwest music festival. The gathering didn't appear related, but police urged tourists to be vigilant while warning residents to call authorities immediately if they receive unexpected parcel deliveries.

By Tuesday, authorities had received more than 150 calls reporting suspicious packages, according to a tweet from the police department.
The first of Monday's blasts occurred early in the morning when a package was carried into the kitchen and exploded upon being opened, killing a 17-year-old boy and wounding a 40-year-old woman, both of them black.
Hours later, police were called to the scene of another explosion also triggered by the opening of a package. That blast wounded a 75-year-old Hispanic woman, who was taken to a hospital with potentially life-threatening injuries.
Both of those explosions are thought to be linked to

SWTJC Service Project

Service to others is a significant part of what is taught at Southwest Texas Junior College, specifically with its students participating in doing good for others in need! Each class teaches how your career will not just wind up being something good for you economically, but that you now have the academic background and skills to be a positive change agent for others.
Whether something small or something big, we have the capacity to do good for those in need. Each semester, SWTJC's student clubs and ongoing classes select a "service project" to participate in. This Spring 2018 semester, the General Psychology and Lifespan Growth and Development classes taught by Mrs. Diana Perez Garcia are undertaking a special service project that intends to help Marcos and Mariah Galindo, children from La Pryor, Texas with their transportation and housing costs as they battle KRABBE DISEASE, a genetic condition that currently has a low survival/recovery rate.

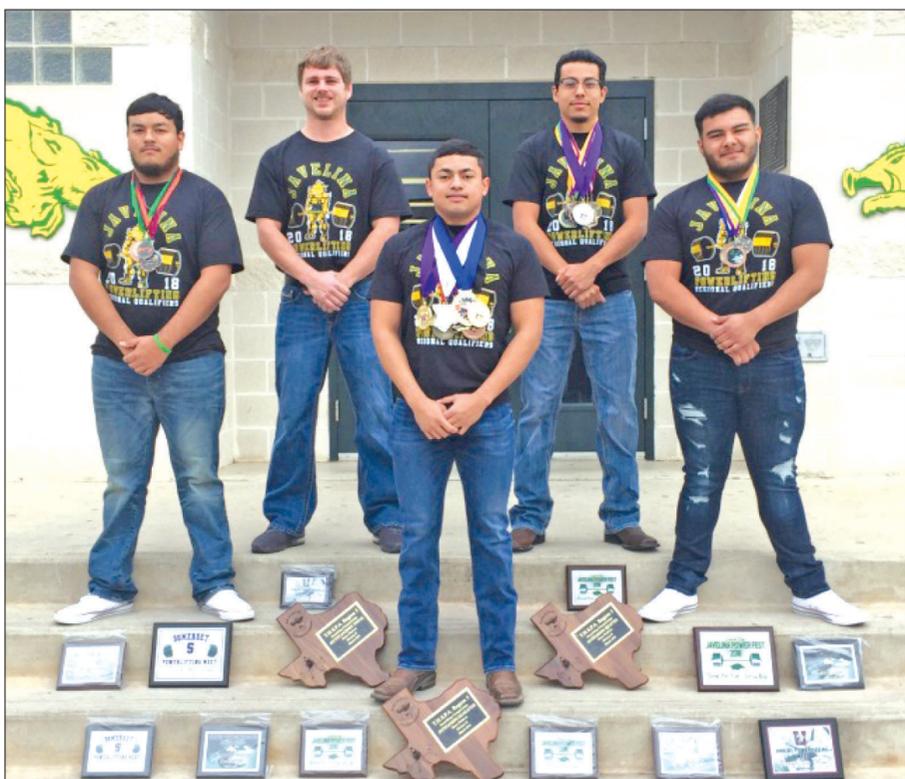

Mariah, Marcus and Miranda

A story in the Zavala County Sentinel on July 12, 2017 impacted some of the students attending the local campus here in Crystal City. Several of the Psychology classes are pre-requisites for the college's nursing and radiology programs. In discussing different service projects, several students researched Krabbe Disease, its effects and genetic connections. In learning about General Psychology students study the human body, its organs and the miracle of how everything interconnects. Lifespan teaches the different stages of growth and the specific components that take us successfully into a healthy old age. This and other Service Projects the college students participate in gives them a direct experience on health care, its costs and its economic effects on families.
Mariah is currently at Methodist Children's Hospital due to pneumonia and is scheduled to travel to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania for a follow up with her team of doctors on the week of March 19. Marcus is scheduled to travel to Florida and meet with a team of research doctors this week. The children have a Facebook page called "A Miracle for Marcus and Mariah" where anyone can follow for any updates.
Noting the challenges these children face and how their disease affects their families, the choice was made to help their grandmother, Blanca McHazzlett to support this fundraising event. The two Psychology classes will support a Brisket Plate Sale on Saturday, March 24, 2018, to be held in front of the SWTJC's - Dr. Antonio Rivera Instructional Facility, at 215 W. Zavala St. in Crystal City. Donations will be $8.00 per plate. Any other donations may be made otherwise to their gofundme account <https://www.gofundme.com/2cbvtpus> or mailed to the attention of Marcus Galindo, P.O. Box 770, La Pryor, Texas 78872.

Border Patrol Agents apprehend man convicted of manslaughter

DEL RIO, Texas – U.S. Border Patrol agents assigned to the Eagle Pass Station arrested a Mexican national who had been convicted of manslaughter.

"This arrest highlights the stark reality that violent criminals are constantly attempting to illegally cross our borders," said Del Rio

Sector Chief Patrol Agent Felix Chavez. "Our agents have again performed admirably in their tireless efforts to keep our country safe."

On March 5, Border Patrol agents arrested a Mexican national after he was encountered near the Rio Grande River in Eagle Pass. During processing at the Eagle Pass Station, agents discovered that Gustavo Alonso Leon-Huizache, 29, had been convicted of manslaughter in St. Martin Parish, Louisiana, on Feb. 25, 2010, and was sentenced to serve 10 years in prison. Records checks show Leon-Huizache was deported to Mexico in May 2015.

Leon-Huizache faces a charge under 8 U.S. Code § 1326 - reentry of removed aliens, which carries a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison. His prior order of removal will be reinstated.

The Del Rio Border Patrol Sector is part of the Joint Task Force-West South Texas Corridor, which leverages federal, state and local resources to combat transnational criminal organizations.

To report suspicious activity call the Del Rio Sector's toll free number at 1-866-511-8727.

U.S. Customs and Border Protection is the unified border agency within the Department of Homeland Security charged with the management, control and protection of our nation's borders at and between the official ports of entry.

CBP is charged with keeping terrorists and terrorist weapons out of the country while enforcing hundreds of U.S. laws.

another early morning blast, this one on March 2, which killed a black man. Monday's victims were not immediately identified but police said previously that the March 2 victim was 39-year-old Anthony Stephan House.

"This is the third in what we believe to be related incidents over the past 10 days," Austin police Chief Brian Manley said during the second of two news conferences he held near each of Monday's explosion sites. At first Manley suggested that the blasts could constitute a hate crime, but later amended that to say authorities had not settled on a motive since the intended targets weren't clear because multiple people live in the homes where explosives were placed. He also said they may possibly have been left at the wrong addresses.

"We are not ruling anything out at this point," Manley said.

Investigators refused to provide many details about how the explosives were packaged, citing the ongoing investigation. But Manley described them as "not particularly large." In all three cases, he said, the packages did not appear to have gone through the U.S. Postal Service or private carriers, but were left on doorsteps without knocking or ringing doorbells.

In a tweet, organizers of South By Southwest said they were "heartbroken by the explosions" and urged visitors to stay safe. Texas Gov. Greg Abbott offered a $15,000 reward for information leading to an arrest.

Manley told festival-goers, "There's no reason to believe that you are at any greater risk." But he added that they should "be aware" and "look for things that are suspicious."

Four years ago, a driver plowed through a barricade and into a crowded street of South By Southwest revelers, killing four people and injuring many others. Extra security measures were taken, including additional policing, tougher security checks and brighter street lighting.

Keith Reynolds lives near the site of Monday's second blast and said he heard what sounded like a propane explosion. He rushed outside and saw a cloud of hazy smoke and people running to help.

"There was a horrible screaming. You knew that something terrible was happening," Reynolds said, adding that the victim's body was riddled with holes as emergency responders took her out of the house.

There was nothing obvious linking the three areas where the bombs exploded, other than all were east of Interstate 35 that divides the city. The east side has historically been more heavily minority and less wealthy than Austin's west side, although that has changed as gentrification has raised home prices and rents everywhere. It is also less true on the city's northern outskirts, closer to where the first explosion occurred and where major firms like Dell, Apple and Samsung have sprawling complexes.

Monday's first blast happened in Springdale Hills, a leafy neighborhood of houses mostly from the 1960s and 1970s. That was about 12 miles (20 kilometers) south of the home where the March 2 package bombing occurred. Monday's second explosion, meanwhile, occurred about 5 miles (8 kilometers) south of the day's first blast.

"It's just a regular family neighborhood," Reynolds said. "It's just a grandmother, you know what I mean? Like, why?" From his house at the end of the same street, 77-year-old retiree Gilbert Rendon heard the boom of Monday's second blast and then saw a crush of scared people running his way — barefoot neighbors, some carrying babies with dogs chasing behind. "They're saying, 'Somebody put a bomb! Somebody put a bomb!'" Rendon said. FBI teams are investigating along with the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives. Manley said anyone receiving a package they don't recognize should call 911. "Under no circumstances should you touch them, move them or handle them in any way," he said.

Miedo o Temor

No confundas el temor de Dios con el miedo de enfrentarlo. Simplemente el tenerle temor es darle respeto, darle honra y reverencia y obedecer sus mandamientos. El tener temor a Dios es el comienzo de buenas cosas. El nos dara sabiduria y entendimiento de las cosas que le agradan.

Dios nos da fuerzas, no da confianza. Es entonces que sentimos paz y disfrutamos de lo bueno de la vida. Recibiremos bendiciones, recibiremos riquezas. Sera como un banquete todo lo que Cristo ofrende.

Happy spring break to those luck folks that are granted one. At least most of you can use spring break to practice getting used to the new time which began this weekend. Time to Consider Steer Projects for 2019 Shows

4-H Families are reminded that steer Validation is in 3 months. If you have youngsters that plan to raise a steer for the 2019 Zavala County Junior Show or a major show in Texas you might want to consider locating a steer project now.

Remember Zavala County Steers show by weight only (No breed division), they must weigh at least 1000 lbs. by the Show in January and no more than 1450 lbs. There is no tooth rule in the county show which means that animals are not required to have their baby teeth by the show. Exhibitors are encouraged to find a steer that was born in late July, August or September of 2017 to make the weight limits for most shows.

Steer validation will take place in June and steer tag orders for the 2019 show season will begin next month in April. If you need more information about raising a beef project, locating a show calf or other questions related to 4-H beef project contact me at the Zavala County office of the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service at 830-374-2883.

Tip of the Week: Successful Tomato Gardening

Yes tomato gardening is one of the most common plants in home gardens next to peppers and squash. They are a good source of vitamin A and fair source of vitamin C. Fresh tomatoes are popular in salads, on sandwiches and sliced. They can be cooked and used in many ways. Texas gardeners can grow a variety of small- and large-fruited tomatoes: Smallfruit include Presto, Cherry Grande, Saladette and Small Fry. Largefruit tomatoes include Better Boy, Big Beef, Big Box, Bush Beefsteak, Carnival, Celebrity and Homestead. There are many others on the market but these have been proven to do well in our area. Released in 2011 the Tycoon tomato has many characteristics that rival or even best the Celebrity tomato, the long-standing favorite of many commercial and home growers, according to our Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service horticulturist.

Tycoon tomato has superior resistance to diseases and nematodes, and it can produce very large fruit of superior quality. For example, Tycoon is resistant to tomato yellow leaf curl virus, a disease that has become a major problem for many varieties in the past few years, Rodriguez said. It is also resistant to the fungi verticillium and fusarium, races one and two, and tomato spotted wilt virus, as well as nematodes. If you want large sized fruit tomatoes I encourage you to try the Tycoon variety this year.

For the most part all tomato varieties Tomatoes grow well in most Texas areas if planted in soil that drains well. They need at least 6 hours of sunlight each day. Work the garden soil only when it is dry enough not to stick to the garden tools. Several weeks before planting, work the top 8 to 10 inches of soil.

Remove all rocks and trash from the soil and rake it to break up large clods. Tomatoes grow best in soils that have lots of organic matter. If possible, spread 2 to 3 inches of organic material such as compost, leaves, or rotted hay over the planting area. Mix this organic material into the top 4 to 6 inches of soil.

Most families need only a few plants, so it is best to buy plants and not grow them from seed. Buy healthy, green plants that are 6 to 8 inches tall. You can set out tomato plants now since all danger of frost has passed. To get a quick start plant tomato Transplants instead of trying to grow them from seeds. If possible, set out tomatoes on raised beds of soil that are about 6 inches high. Make the transplant holes 3 to 4 inches deep and 2 to 4 feet apart in the row. For staked or caged plants, space the rows at least 3 feet apart. For unsupported plants, leave 4 to 5 feet between the rows. Transplant your tomatoes in the evening or on a cloudy day to keep them from drying too much and wilting.

Before placing transplants into the soil, fill the transplant holes with water and let it soak in. After planting water the tomato plants slowly and deeply to help them develop a strong root system. Do not let the tomatoes wilt severely, or yields and fruit quality will be low.

During the growing season and for the highest yields, place mulch around the tomato plants. Spread a 2- to 3-inch layer of organic material such as compost, leaves, or hay around the growing plants. Mulching will help stop weed growth and water loss from the soil. You can let tomatoes grow on the ground or support them with stakes or cages. When you stake tomatoes, put the stake in shortly after transplanting to lessen root damage. For staked or caged plants, space the rows at least 3 feet apart. For unsupported plants, leave 4 to 5 feet between the rows. Fertilize the plants every 3 to 4 weeks with 1 to 2 level table-spoons of fertilizer scattered around each plant. To control weeds, you may cultivate or hoe around the plants. Work the soil only deep enough to kill the weeds but shallow enough not to damage the tomato plant roots.

Many insecticides are available at garden centers for homeowner use. Sevin is a synthetic insecticide; organic options include sulfur and Bt-based insecticides. Sulfur also has fungicidal properties and helps in controlling many diseases. Neem oil, sulfur, and other fungicides are available for use.

Now enjoy the fruits of your labor. For best quality, pick tomatoes at full color. If you pick them when they are pink, let them ripen at room temperature for maximum rip vine flavor. They may be stored in the refrigerator after they reach full color.

Enjoy your garden and have a fruitful week. M.V.

College rodeo team hosts annual exhibition rodeo for kids in Uvalde

Uvalde, TX, March 9, 2018 - The cheers were loud. The smiles were huge. The verdict was unanimous - everyone had a fantastic time at the 12th Annual Southwest Texas Junior College Kid's Rodeo. More than 500 students from daycare, pre-k and kindergarten students attended the event hosted by the SWTJC Rodeo Team. Schools represented included Dalton Early Childhood Center and the Kirchner and Powers Child Development Center at SWTJC. "My team members did a good job this year," coach Roy Angermiller said. "It's always good to see our rodeo kids interact with the young students." The event, held Tuesday, Feb. 28, began with a prayer, followed by the playing of the National Anthem, as a rodeo team member paraded through the arena on horseback carrying the American Flag.

Before the first event, Angermiller gave a brief history of how rodeo began when cowboys working on ranches would compete against each other in events like steer wrestling, calf roping, and bull riding. Eventually, cowboys from ranches in different parts of the state challenged each other for bragging rights and rodeos became a part of the culture.

This year's kid's rodeo included bronc riding, calf roping, goat tying, team roping and barrel racing.

Angermiller thanked the county for allowing the event to be staged at the County Fairplex

The Doctrine of Salvation

By Celestino Luna

The Doctrine of Salvation is based on God's faithfulness to His promises. Give yourself time to read Genesis chapter 12 to 25:8 and you will understand. About 2,000 years had gone by since Adam and Eve when God called Abraham out of his country and God made Himself known with promises to Abraham. Abraham believed God and through that faith God justified Abraham and God became a friend to Abraham. That justification through faith in God applies to us today too. God promised Abraham that in his seed all the families of the world would be blessed and that seed is Jesus Christ which you can read about in Genesis 12:3, 18:18, 22:18, Acts 3:25 and Galatians 3:8 and 3:15-18. Abraham was 75 and his wife Sarah was 65, she was sterile and Abraham had no hope of an heir but God honored Abraham's faith and promised him a child. Against all odds for 25 years Abraham encouraged himself in prayer, hope and thanksgiving to God. Abraham was almost 100 years old and Sarah was 90 when she found herself with child and Isaac was born nine months later.

We too should not give up on God for He is faithful and full of mercy for the Bible teaches us of sterile women who humbled themselves to God and God granted them children. Before I came to Christ at the age of 45 I did not know anything about God but after that day God anointed me and gave me hunger and thirst to read and study His Word. I have heard people say that the grave is the end of our existence. Be not deceived! We are more than a body. We have an eternal soul and a spirit which is the breath of life. We die because our body is temporary, a shell that is corruptible and becomes old and sick, and a body that must die to the sinful nature. God has promised us who believe His promises that Christ in us is our hope of glory and that in Christ we shall receive an incorruptible glorified body. That is why we preach and teach and write, because after being approved by God He trusts us to preach the truth. The truth is Jesus Christ and Him only.

Where will we spend eternity? God gives us a choice. Jesus Christ is the Way and other ways lead to perdition. There is a Heavenly promise city and there is a Hades, even a Lake of Fire. Yes, we all groan, we all have hardships but those that endure to the end in the faith, their soul will be saved.

"You may lose all your material possessions but if you remain in the faith you have lost nothing". "But if you lose your faith in God you have lost everything".

What would you do if you saw a helpless child lost in the streets, unable to find his way home? Or you see a wreck and hear somebody shouting for help? Or suppose you are in a swimming pool standing in three feet of water because you do not know how to swim and you fall into the deep part and start calling for Help? It is a joke the others may say but it is no joke to the Lifeguard. Jesus Christ is our Lifeguard and we all are drowning in sin but remember, Jesus cares for us in such a way that He gave Himself to rescue you.

God willing next week we will talk about that. Yes, God sees us helpless and it is He because of His mercy that saves all who believe.

What every caregiver should know about Medicare

By Bob Moos, Southwest public affairs officer for the U.S. Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services

The phone call can come at any hour. Your elderly parent has fallen ill and needs your help. If you haven't gotten the call yet, chances are you will. About 70 percent of our parents will require some kind of personal care during their old age. Sometimes, the care will extend for years.

Caregivers often find themselves at wits' end, careening from one crisis to another and having little time to confront the problem that cropped up yesterday, let alone tackle the one that just reared its head today. The challenges can quickly become overwhelming.

Having a working knowledge of Medicare may help you keep your balance and ensure that your parent, or other loved one, receives the appropriate care. Medicare doesn't have to be a mystery. There are simple ways to get answers to your questions.

The best overview of the Medicare program is the official "Medicare and You" handbook. It's mailed to all beneficiaries every fall and provides an up-to-date-description of all services and benefits. It's also readily available on Medicare's main website, at www.medicare.gov.

If you have a particular question, you may want to visit with a Medicare customer service representative at 1-800-633-4227. Medicare also works closely with State Health Insurance Assistance Programs to provide free health insurance counseling. The Texas number is 1-800-252-9240.

Caregivers find Medicare's secure website - www.mymedicare.gov - especially useful. After setting up a personal account for your parent, you can view the details of your elder's coverage, track recent health care claims and keep up to date on preventive services your parent qualifies for.

Medicare can also help you locate the right health care providers for your parent. Its "Compare" web pages - at www.medicare.gov - are a good place to begin your search for a nursing home, hospital, home health agency, dialysis facility or physician that fits your parent's needs.

Medicare can reduce many out-of-pocket medical expenses, but it doesn't cover everything. Understanding what Medicare covers, as well as what it won't cover, can save you time and spare you frustration when navigating the caregiving maze. Here are a few key points:

Besides basic hospital and physician services and optional prescription drug benefits, Medicare covers home health care. To qualify, a beneficiary must be homebound, under a physician's care and in need of part-time skilled nursing care or rehabilitative services like physical therapy. Medicare also helps pay for oxygen, catheters and other medical supplies that a doctor prescribes for home use. The same is true for medically necessary equipment like oxygen machines, wheelchairs and walkers.

Medicare covers skilled care in a nursing home for limited periods following hospital stays. But it doesn't cover long-term stays. Patients who need custodial care (room and board) must pay out of pocket unless they're eligible for Medicaid or have private long-term care insurance.

Medicare pays for hospice care for someone with a terminal illness whose doctor expects will live six months or less. The hospice benefit also includes brief periods of respite care at a hospice facility, hospital or nursing home to give the patient's caregivers an occasional rest.

Besides long-term nursing home stays, Medicare typically doesn't cover regular dental care or dentures, regular eye exams or eyeglasses, and hearing exams and hearing aids. Likewise, it won't pay for non-emergency ambulance trips -- unless a doctor certifies they're medically necessary.

Money can quickly become a worry when managing a parent's health care. If your parent lives on a limited income, you should check whether he or she qualifies for help with prescription drug costs or with other Medicare-related premiums, deductibles and copayments.

For help with drug costs, contact Social Security at www.socialsecurity.gov or 1-800-772-1213 and ask about the "Extra Help Program." For help with other Medicare costs, go to www.medicare.gov or call 1-800-633-4227 and ask about the "Medicare Savings Programs."

It's common for caregivers to suffer from stress, loss of sleep, and poor health themselves. So it's important to eat properly, get regular exercise and set aside some time each week to do something you enjoy. You can't care for someone else if you don't look after yourself.

Thank you!

Thank you to all family, friends and community members who supported us, Xavier Espinosa and Ray Espinosa, during last week's Primary Election.

I, Ray, thank everyone that supported me throughout this endeavor. Your vote of confidence is greatly appreciated.

I, Xavier, will continue to serve the citizens of Zavala County to the best of my ability. Thank you very much for re-electing me as your Justice of the Peace Pct. 2. God bless!

Springs of "Living Water"

by Pastor Dino Espinoza

COME AS YOU ARE

We have all been invited to dinners and other gatherings with short notice. Some of these are special celebrations held in restaurants or banquet halls. Usually we will ask for a "dress code"; wanting to in tune with the setting.

Recently we received a friendly invitation for a dinner. The call was a pleasant surprise with a most welcomed explanation - "COME AS YOU ARE". That meant casual and we enjoyed the evening with home cooking and loving friends.

In Scriptures Jesus would often invite others to join Him in similar fashion. COME AS YOU ARE was His theme. Today He still invites us to His table of friendship, mercy, love, guidance and SALVATION. No matter who you are Jesus is calling - COME AS YOU ARE!

VENGA TAL COMO ESTÉ

Todos hemos sido invitados a cenas y otras reuniones con breve aviso. Algunas de estas son celebraciones especiales en restaurantes o salas de banquetes. Por lo general preguntamos si hay un código de ventimenta ; deseando estar en sintonía con el ambiente.

Recientemente recibimos una invitación amigable para una cena.

La llamada fue una sorpresa placentera con una explicación muy bienvenida. - "VENGA TAL COMO ESTÉ". Eso significó algo casual y disfrutamos de una noche de comida casera y amigos muy amables.

En las Escrituras Jesus también con frecuencia invitaba a otros acercarse a El en manera similar.

VENGA TAL COMO ESTÉ fue su lema. Hoy El nos sigue invitando a Su mesa de amistad, misericordia, amor, guianza, y SALVACION. No importa quien eres Jesus está llamando - VENGA TAL COMO ESTÉ.

Thank You

Poems

by Larry Seacord

- Love -

Do you have love?
If you do, you are above us all. For love is the strength of life.

Without it, you are but a leaf, blown by the wind.

And as the leaf you shall wither and die.

But loves strength will grow in you and you shall rise above the leaves into the forest.

A forest which will never die, even in death.

- Death -

Why do men fear death?

In death do you ever hear a child cry, for lack of nourishment? A mother cry, for a child lost? A sweetheart cry, for her loved one? Or a friend, losing a companion?

In death you only hear silence, golden and pure.

Do you ever see a loved one die? Do you see or know the pain and suffering of the world?

In death you know only darkness and peace.

Why do men fear anything so loving, as death??

Thanks Precinct Two

I want to express my sincere thanks to the voters of Precinct 2 for your support throughout the primary campaign. "Gracias por su voto". Unfortunately, the votes were short of a victory, but the process was an experience. I personally want to congratulate Xaiver Espinosa on a well-run campaign. I hope it was noticeable to the public that both of us just asked for your vote and did not resort to disparaging remarks.

As you know, the primaries are held in the Spring and the general election in November. It is a good time to remind everyone that the local winning candidates will represent us during the general election. As Democrats, we need to support our political party candidates (local, state and especially national). The upcoming general election is critical for our nation. We need to encourage each other to vote in November because EVERY VOTE DOES COUNT. For anyone that is not registered to vote, "get'er done". Your vote is needed to turn our nation in the right direction. Let's turn our state "Blue"!
